MONDAY, 12 OCTOBER 2026 | 8:45AM – 12:45PM | ICC SYDNEY

Faculty: Dr John Tait (New Zealand), Dr Rohana Haththotuwa (Sri Lanka), Dr Firoza Begum (Bangladesh), Dr U.D.P. Ratnasiri (Sri Lanka) and Dr Greg Duncombe (Australia)

Join leading experts in Sydney for an insightful workshop exploring practical strategies to manage complex diagnoses and uncertainty while delivering compassionate care.

Secure your opportunity to develop new skills in integrated, patient-centred communication grounded in evidence-based practice, understand the vital role of compassion in high-risk pregnancy care, and recognise the emotional impact of complex obstetric care on both patients and providers. Designed for obstetricians, MFM specialists, trainees, midwives, and healthcare professionals, this workshop equips you with essential communication skills for challenging clinical decisions.

Many of our workshops are accredited for RANZCOG CPD hours, and we encourage you to explore our workshops to see which specific sessions qualify.
